

Situation: The student chooses to buy new clothes from the fast-fashion industry because the process is quick, familiar, and easy to navigate. Even though they are aware of second-hand alternatives, convenience and a busy routine lead them to prioritize fast fashion over more sustainable options.